High Court rejects Bay zoning change

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Mississippi Supreme Court has ruled that the Bay St. Louis Council

'erroneously rezoned' six lots owned by Milton Fortier and Associates, changing zoning from R-2 to R-3 in 1977.

The Supreme Court overturned a Circuit Court action affirming the change by the Council and rules in favor of Elizabeth H. Sullivan and seven other individuals opposed to the rezoning of the said lots and who had appealed from that judgment.

The six lots are located between Keller and Sycamore Streets and a public hearing was held on Dec. 13, 1977 on a request filed by Fortier on August 17, 1977 in connection with efforts to build an apartment complex on the property.

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission recommended the change and the Bay Council confirmed their recommendation.

Fishermen deaths ruled accidental drownings

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. reports that a New Orleans coroner's report shows the death of Frank Frierson and Sally Herrin's are classified as accidental drownings.

The body of Ms. Herrin was recovered Friday and Frierson's late Saturday evening in the vicinity of Martin Island in the Louisiana Marsh. Hancock County Civil Defense Director Robert Boudin reported that the two had left Bordages fishing Camp, Lakeshore, Saturday, Oct. 10.

Numerous search vessels, including the Hancock County Civil Defense units, Coast Guard, and Louisiana authorities and volunteers searched for the two for six days.

Both Ms. Herrin and Frierson were residents of Picayune.

Wayne Ducomb joins Echo editorial staff

Wayne Ducomb Jr., a Hancock County native, has been employed by the Sea Coast Echo as a reporter-photographer.

Ellis Cuevas, Echo editor and publisher, commented, "I have known Wayne Ducomb and his family for many years. I am very happy to have him on our staff. Wayne's involvement in the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, United Way, civic and other Community affairs shows his desire to help Hancock County become a better place."

Ducomb, 27, graduated from St. Stanislaus High School and following graduation attended the University of New Orleans.

He served in the U.S. Army for two years as battalion information specialist, performing various public relations functions for the First Battalion, 73rd Field Artillery at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

In addition to those duties, he was assistant editor of the Cadet, a newspaper for ROTC summer camp at Ft. Bragg.

He graduated from the U.S. Army Training Center with a degree in offset printing.

Ducomb earned a BS degree from the University of Southern Mississippi, majoring in journalism (with emphasis in public relations) and minoring in marketing.

On January 1, he will replace outgoing president Ross B. Guest.

Lizana's election came at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors at which Larry Kniffin, assistant manager of DuPont's DeLisle plant, was elected vice president and Mrs. Lillian Dillard was re-elected executive secretary-treasurer.

Elected as new members of the chamber's board of directors are Gordon Bishop, Julien Byrne, Robert Cochran, Mrs. Dottie Cooper and Frank Wittmann III.

All are to serve three-year terms. The new officers and board members will be installed at a December dinner meeting of the chamber.

Auto dealers offer reward for vandal information

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A $200 cash reward has been offered by Schuffert Pontiac and Charles Henderson Ford for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons causing damages at their dealerships last weekend.

E. P. "Hungry" Exnicious, general manager at Charlie's reported two 1980 cars and one pickup truck incurred damages as well as a plate glass window being broken.

Chunks of concrete were hurled at the vehicles and plate glass, according to Exnicious, who discovered the broken glasses upon opening Monday morning.

Exnicious said the vandalism had occurred either on October 20 or 21.

Frank Schuffert, owner of Schuffert

Pontiac - Buick - GMC stated hoods were damaged on one pickup truck and glasses broken out of several others at his establishment.

Schuffert said brick bats were used in the incidents, and that a couple of them were still lying around his dealership.

"It is a continuous thing to have windows broken, spare tires and batteries stolen - looks like every few weeks we have some damages at the dealership," commented Schuffert.

Exnicious allowed, "This kind of mischief is one of the reasons people have to pay high insurance premiums - someone has to pay for the damages."

The dealerships reported that those giving information would remain confidential, and to call either the Bay St. Louis or Waveland Police Departments.

Henderson is in Waveland and Schuffert in Bay St. Louis city limits.

Randolph eyes private business

By RICH ADAMS

Outgoing Hancock County Superintendent of Education Terry Randolph said Wednesday he is not pursuing an appeal contesting the results of the August Democratic primary election because he is planning a private business venture.

Randolph contends some 41 votes for superintendent in the West Shoreline Park ballot box during the Democratic primary race were cast by residents of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District.

Randolph recently contested the allegedly illegal votes before a special tribunal and Forrest County Circuit Court Judge Jack D. Weldy.

Weldy ruled in favor of Democratic Nominee Billy D. Sills, and Randolph indicated at that time he would contest the decision before the State Supreme Court.

Randolph's attorney, Ben Galloway, however announced Monday that Randolph would not appeal the decision.

In an interview Wednesday Randolph would not comment on what private business venture he is pursuing, but added his decision not to pursue an appeal is based on the business opportunity.

"I had taken it this far, but then I decided to go into a private business venture," Randolph said Wednesday.

"I think I owed it to myself and my supporters to appeal the decision, even though I was undecided whether to go on or not. Now I have decided not to pursue the matter further," he added.

"I want to go into a private business venture the first of the year," the superintendent said.

In conceding, Randolph leaves his post open to contenders Sills and Hancock North Central Principal Thad Haskins in the Nov. 6 general election.

Fine levied on woods arsonist

By RICH ADAMS

A Pass Christian man was fined $500 and received a suspended jail sentence after he was found guilty here of felonious woods arson.

Herrnan Moran, 21, was found guilty of the arson charges, fined, sentenced, and placed on probation for three years by Hancock County Circuit Court Judge Rubel Griffin.

Moran was charged with a Feb. 25 woods fire off the Kiln-Dedeaux Road on Microwave Wave Road in Hancock County.

He and a juvenile allegedly set fire to 17 acres of woods, according to Hancock County Forester Rand Riedrich.

The land the woods were on is owned by Hancock Bank and Rita B. Wolfe, according to Circuit Court records.

The 15-year-old juvenile allegedly assisting in the arson is slated for a hearing in Hancock County Youth Court, according to Youth Court Judge Michael Haas.

Riedrich and Forestry Commission crews extinguished the February fire, and the forester claims he has assisted in dousing 330 wood fires in Hancock County this year, most of those fires attributed to felonious arsonists.

T. H. Moody announces candidacy

THOMAS H. MOODY

Thomas H. Moody of Gulfport has announced his candidacy for Southern District highway commissioner on the independent ticket.

Moody is presently employed under the Corps of Engineers for Levee Protection on the Mississippi River.

He attended Pearl River Junior College and the University of Southern Mississippi.

The candidate has had 10 years experience as project engineer and superintendent with the highway commission and served on the commission with the late John D. Smith.

He is a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and served in the Korean Conflict.

Moody is a member of the Baptist Church, Lions International, Farm Bureau, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and Disabled American Veterans.

"I will work for a department which will always be open door to you, the taxpayer, to whom the Highway Department belongs," Moody said upon announcing his candidacy.

"I promise I will give you four years of honest, hard work, be a full time employee for you, and serve you to the best of my ability," he added.

Mental Health opens Hancock rehab center

By WAYNE DUCOMB

Hancock Industries, corner of US-90 and Drinkwater Road in Bay St. Louis recently began operation here as a branch of the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center in Gulfport.

Twenty percent of the units operating costs are shared by the United Way of Hancock County and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, with $63,000 of Title 20 Funds furnished by the State Department of Public Welfare.

According to Hancock Industries

Director George Graves, the goal of their program is to teach handicapped clients not only vocational skills but "daily living skills" as well.

"Clients must have had a disability before the age of 18 and have been rejected by the regular vocational rehabilitation processing as not trainable to qualify for this program," Graves explained.

"We have 13 people working at Hancock Industries now and at the end of the month we will grow to about 20 clients, with our capacity being about 30 clients," Graves stated.

The clients at Hancock Industries are paid for the work they perform making ceramic Christmas tree ornaments, many different types of macramé items and rough wood mailboxes. Several other money making projects are planned for the future.

Items and services of Hancock Industries can be purchased by anyone and "the public is invited to come by anytime, between 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday," according to Graves.

In addition to the vocational skills learned by the clients, daily living skills such as physical fitness, personal hygiene, nutrition and personal finances are taught. Graves adds that, "The ultimate goal we have here is trying to train our clients to function independently from us."

Graves also hopes to gradually make Hancock Industries a "self sufficient" program. But in order for his hopes to become a reality, Graves states, "We need local citizens to allow us an opportunity to work for them. If a citizen has a task we can accomplish, we would welcome him or her to give us a call."

The types of work Hancock Industries is looking for must require at least 4 to 5 people, such as yard and janitorial work. These jobs will be supervised by Hancock Industries staff who also drive clients to various job sites.

Assisting Graves at the center are Jane Baugartner, program director, and Murray Ladner, Lee Morris and Cindy Poynter, driver-aids.

A message from Gil

Our problems today aren't legal or social - they're economic. Everywhere I go I hear young people who can't find jobs near home, older citizens who can't cope with inflation, employees who commute to work but can't afford today's high gas prices, mothers who have cut-back all they can on food and utility expenses.

These are the real problems the next Governor will have to deal with.

Solving them will take a leader... a leader who understands our economy and knows what it takes to put it in high gear.

Passing more laws won't do it - talking about it won't do it. Tough leadership will.

I've spent my life working in our economic system, building a business and creating real jobs. I'm ready to do the job.

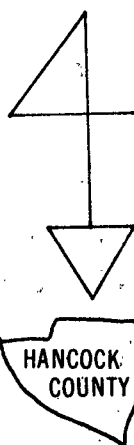

This time...

SHELF PEOPLE

Had a visit from my 16-year-old grandson. As he was leaving I laughingly said,
"You know, son, I've been fortunate to have lived some 66 years with reasonably good health and now that I have answers to some questions about life no one ask them to me."

We both laughed, my laughter having a touch of pathos.

What a sad commentary on our changing times which has made "shelf people" of so many of our elderly and old citizens - I know - I've been there.

Centers have sprung up throughout the country in an effort to activate our "shelf people" into a more meaningful and productive life.

The people of Hancock County should be proud of the efforts being made here in this direction.

So often in life we don't stop to think of the good that is being done and have a tendency to see only the faults.
With the support of the various funding programs,

Eve McDonald, Jim Hoda and Theresa James together with their respective staffs are to be commended for their efforts.

Take a walk to the Center with me and from time to time
meet the people in the Elderly
Day Care Program.

I chatted with Mr. and Mrs.
Harold Phaup of Waveland and learned that due to health problems, The Unicare Home Health Service, through one of their nurses, suggested that inasmuch as they could not cook for themselves that the Center could be of help.

They are picked up every day together with others, and are brought to the Day Care Center.

The Day Care program provides such activities as Arts and Crafts.

The Nutrition Center
managed by Pam Jones, serves mid-day meals with the Lord's prayer being said by the entire group prior to eating.

From time to time outings and picnics are arranged and Rosine Jushaway acting director of the Day Care program, keeps the air humming with her "naturally endowed sense of humor."

She is ably assisted by her
Group Leaders Ernestine
Peters, Deidre Hackney.

Gerry Blanchard,
secretary, also contributes half a day assisting and Thomas Hode, bus driver, picks everyone up each day
and returns them safely home.
While everyone has specific duties, each and every one spreads his or her talents and is ready for any emergency.

I also learned from the Phaups that they both enjoyed companionship with their peer group.

I chatted with them while
Mrs. Phaup worked on her art project and Mr. Phaup was busy weaving his place mat.

To my comment to Mrs.
Phaup - "It must have been difficult for you to accept the fact that you no longer were able to cook for your husband" —she looked up at me with a smile and with some considerable spirit replied: "I'm not giving up though!"

This reminded me of the time when a fellow art student in the Center's Art program
under Carl Baldenhofer, remarked: "Pete, do you realize that if it weren't for this program we would have wound up in a nursing home?"
We who are more active but thru the Grace of God also engage in the Volunteer Program-but let's leave that for another day.

Bits 'n pieces

Friday night's game between Bay High and St. Stanislaus will be for both the City and County championship.

The way we, as fans, can show our support of these two fine football teams is by being in the stands to support our favorite.

Of course we have to try to remain neutral, and everyone around the office are trying to figure just who to pick as the winner in our predictions.

We have two fine coaches in Snuffy Smith and Barry Jones and we have the feeling that both teams will be ready to play when the whistle sounds at 7:30 p.m.

Let both the Tigers and Rock-A-Chaws know the community supports them. Help fill the stands, there is plenty of standing room. A record attendance for a high school football game in Bay St. Louis is a possibility.

See you at the game!

Talking about football, the four teams had us spread out a little last Friday night.

Randy Ponder was with Bay High at Vancleave, Edgar Perez with Pass Christian at Lyman, Rich Adams with Hancock North Central at Pearl River, La., and I was at St. Martin with St. Stanislaus.

Four teams we cover and each one out of town the same night.

We have received numerous complaints about the Webb Street dump during the past few years.

The Bay Council's action to close the dump 'officially' was a good move. Residents of the immediate area have a right to gripe about the dump at their back door.

There are a lot of dumps in Hancock County, not really official dumps, and they should all be closed down.

We have been hearing complaints from the Pearlinton area, Bienville Community, Leetown and other areas.

Those in official capacity should check these areas out and see if dumping is allowed.

The Environmental Protection Agency has stiff guidelines on the type of dumping which is safe and legal today.

We will be looking further into the dump situations in the coming months.

It is a good day when we can see as many concerned people attend a meeting of a governmental agency, like last Thursday night's meeting between the Bay Council and Zoning and Planning Commission.

Many times our political leaders make decisions which effect all of us and yet no one will express an opinion one way or the other until a new law or ordinance goes into effect.

We have heard many times statements from some of the political leaders wishing comments from their constituents on certain matters.

We would like to congratulate all of those who expressed their opinions on the proposed new zoning map for the City of Bay St. Louis.

In all probability on Sunday there will be folks going to Church to only find out that it is already over with because they failed to push their clock up and hour the night before.

Many of us have a tendency to resent the changing of the clocks twice a year because it is something else to mess up our schedules.

Some must benefit from the clock changes but we still haven't found anyone in our area who likes the changes.

MISSISSIPPI LIBRARY COMMISSION ADVISOR—Ms. Fran Trombley of Bay St. Louis, chairman of the Hancock County Library System Board of Trustees and secretary to Mayor Larry Bennett, has been named to a State Library Commission advisory council authorized under the federal Library Service and Construction Act of 1972. Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Inflation and the Economy

I know many of you are as concerned about the nation's economic situation as I am. Inflation, the decline in the value of the dollar, high interest rates, and the continuing escalation of fuel and energy costs have generated a great deal of worries that our national economy is headed for a serious recession over the next several months.

As you probably know, the Federal Reserve Board has raised the discount rate to an alarmingly high level, although a number of economic experts believe this is necessary to help lighten credit and restrict borrowing. Inevitably, however, the resulting high interest rates will reduce business expansion and adversely affect the construction industry. Already, some are predicting that during this recession, housing or home building will decline by as much as 25 percent and many workers in this field will be out of work.

Recent figures from another major segment of our economy, the automobile industry, are not very encouraging either. Car sales are down substantially from last year, and this could cause future employment problems in the automotive industry and related industries such as the steel industry.

The most significant force in this economic turmoil is government policy. This includes the level of excessive government spending, particularly our federal budget deficits and the swollen national debt which has imposed a heavy mortgage on the future of this and succeeding generations of Americans.

We have been plagued by budget deficits almost every year since the beginning of World War II. In fact, during the past forty years, there have been federal budget deficits for 35 of those years.

The national debt ceiling has been steadily raised, to a figure which is nearly 900 billion dollars—or to bring it down to an individual basis, almost four thousand dollars for each man, woman and child in this country.

As one cynic has put it, we now have a dollar the size of a quarter, and not really worth that much. The sad fact is that the buying power of the dollar has declined by nearly 80 percent the past forty years. If you take the buying power of the dollar in 1939 as 100 cents on the dollar, today it is only 22 cents. That tells you about as graphically as anything the ravages of the inflationary spiral we have been experiencing in recent years.

It is one of my major goals as your Senator to help bring the federal budget into balance and to hold down the expansion of the national debt ceiling.

I have consistently supported legislative efforts to balance the budget and eliminate deficit spending. I have particularly been concerned that we in the Congress cut out as much wasteful and unnecessary spending in the wide range of federal programs which now exist. I have been extremely concerned that we not create costly new federal programs which would generate additional deficit spending and serve as a further drain on the taxpayers of this country.

For this reason I am sponsoring a resolution to require the federal government to balance its budget. I am also pushing legislation to reduce the costs imposed on consumers and taxpayers by unnecessary federal regulations. These two measures would be constructive, positive steps the government must take in the fight to whip inflation. Their passage would also signal a needed change in national policy.

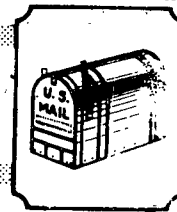

It is my belief that a more responsible federal fiscal policy, less bureaucratic regulation and costly rulemaking, and sound development of our resources, both natural and human, will help this nation maintain its economic health and vitality in the years to come.

I think many of you agree with me that we cannot, either individually or as a nation, spend more than we take in or produce. It is certainly clear now that we cannot spend ourselves out of inflation.

Our nation has risen to meet complex economic challenges before. We have survived recessions, even depressions, of great severity. I am confident that with the proper leadership and attitude our nation can do so again.

Teachers seek apology from PTO in popcorn controversy

Tuesday, October 25, 1979

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

This is an open letter to the public and Mrs. Lana Noonan concerning the article on the front page of this Sunday's Echo.

This article is the one which allegedly outlines the circumstances concerning the sale of popcorn through the North Bay School.

Certain statements and quotes in the story were very misleading to the parents and public.

The reporter who wrote the article only covered one side of the story and did not bother to question any teachers concerning this matter.

In the future, we would recommend that Mr. Cuevas instruct his employees to thoroughly research their stories and provide unbiased reporting.

As teachers for the North Bay Elementary School, we are very annoyed at being antagonized by Mrs. Lana Noonan.

Mrs. Noonan used very harsh words in her quote, "she despises teachers for sending home the popcorn brochures."

Last year the teachers were given very similar brochures by Mrs. Noonan to be distributed in their classrooms; however, now that the PTO is not sponsoring the popcorn sale, it is considered to be illegal by Mrs. Noonan.

We feel that it is time for the antagonizing and ridiculing to be stopped. We also feel that Mrs. Noonan should apologize to the North Bay teachers for her harsh words that were quoted in the article.

Thank You,
North Bay Teachers

Company representative gives another side of popcorn coin

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

I feel that it is necessary for me to respond to the recent controversy concerning the fund raising project at North Bay Elementary School.

I represent Princeton Industries Corp. in this area, and worked with North Bay elementary school last year on a project sponsored by the PTO.

Last May, Mrs. Noonan was the sponsor for our project. It was conducted last year in the exact same manner as the previous one with one exception:

The PTO was responsible for that one.

Letters were sent home to parents which were printed on the school ditto machine. Cash awards were given to the students.

Brochures from my company were used to take orders for the containers of popcorn. Money was being raised to finance air conditioning for the school.

I was a school teacher for seven years and have been on both sides of the fence when it comes to fund-raising.

I never was for fund-raising in schools, but it was necessary to do it to support different educational projects I wished to undertake.

There is no school system in the State of Mississippi that can acquire a budget to run each school and give the teachers the extras they need to do the job they would like to do. Fund-raising is a must if you have dedicated teachers working for you.

I went to work for Princeton Industries for one reason only. They have an excellent reputation in the field of fund-raising. Some 94 percent of our representatives have teaching experience and we spend great amounts of time and effort on organization so teachers will have to use only a minimum amount of class time to run a program.

Mr. Sills did not want his teachers spending their time on fund raising so I volunteered to run the program for him with the help of one other teacher.

This included organization, student motivation, and record keeping.

I planned on being at the school every day the program was in progress.

No one in the business that I know of will do this for a school.

Last year Mrs. Noonan and the PTO made close to $1880 which was excellent considering it was made during the flood.

This speaks well of my company's program.

Mr. Sills hoped to raise close to $4,000 this fall with my help. I had no complaints at all from either Mrs. Noonan or Mr. Sills last year and presumed this would be the case this year.

Mr. Sills felt because of the controversy this program should be postponed. I agree, although the time and money I have invested in the program are considerable.

I write this letter so there will be no misunderstanding as far as myself or my company is concerned.

I enjoyed working with Mrs. Noonan and Mr. Sills and received only cooperation last year from both.

I take pride in the fact that I help schools raise funds for education and am willing to help any school or group that needs help.

I also take pride in the fact that my company is in completely above board in any program which we are involved.

Sincerely,
Joe Jenkins
Princeton Industries Corp.

Auto taxpayer is victim of state delay in fixing values

The Editor,
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

In my letter published in the Sea Coast Echo on August 30, 1979, I did not mention taxes on lots purchased August 17, 1978, as these lots were not included in taxes I paid in January of 1979.

The point I tried to make in my letter was that I paid taxes on a new house worth about one half as much as a house I sold and on which I paid no taxes.

The old house was well constructed and only first class material was used.

The new house is located in a less desirable neighborhood on a gravel street. There is no natural gas, water or sewerage available. The house is poorly constructed and inferior material used throughout. The bricks are defective, the slab is uneven, the concrete is cracked and the doors are warped.

On August 1, 1979, I received a bill for a renewal license on a car purchased September 29, 1978.

When I checked this bill against the previous year's bill I found that all charges were exactly the same as those on the old bill with the exception of an increase of $1.68 resulting from a one mill raise on school taxes.

When I referred this bill to my attorney he was rather surprised to find no reduction in the taxes.

Upon checking with the assessor office he was informed that a booklet listing reduced values would not be available until October. Since I bought the car on September 29, 1978 and paid taxes for one year then taxes should not be due until September 29, 1979, and not August 1, 1979. I lose about $15.00 by the premature renewal plus taxes on the false value of the car.

I will now have to pay $379.47 for taxes to drive a car 23 months.

Yours truly,
E.N. Canady
Waveland.

Open letter to:
Bay St. Louis Tiger Pride Band

Dear Tiger Pride:

I would like to take this means to tell each and every one of you, not only as secretary of the Tiger Pride Band-Aides, but also as band parent, how proud I am of you for the ratings you earned at the Gulf Coast Clinic in Gulfport on October 20.

As you know, I was not able to get to Gulfport in time to see you perform; however, I did arrive in time to hear the ratings. I know how hard each one of you worked, and will continue to work, to earn these ratings.

I am sure that Mr. Page and Mrs. Hamilton are both very proud of you also, not only for your performance, but for the many, many hours of hard work and practice that made these ratings possible.

Good luck on your future contests - I know you will keep Tiger Pride "Number One."

AARP driver courses brings reduced insurance rates

October 22, 1979

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Did you know many insurance companies offer a 10 percent discount to drivers who complete the two Day Driver Improvement Course that will be conducted by the American Association of Retired Persons November 13 and 14th.

While the course is intended to help senior citizens, it is available to anyone, and will not only bring you up to date on the existing rules and regulations, but will as well explain and show you how to avoid accidents.

And in the case of an accident, will explain just what you should and should not do.

As one who has taken this course, I earnestly recommend it to any driver, but particularly to you senior citizens, and if the insurance companies are offering you a 10 percent discount on your insurance premium, you know they consider it good for you and for them.

The course is scheduled to be conducted at the Civic Center on Coleman Ave., Waveland, Nov. 13 and 14.

The class is limited to 30, so please call Joe Servat, 487-7434 or call me at 487-7882.

PRC names Barnes outstanding alum

Dr. Eugene Barnes, a 1957 graduate of Pearl River Junior College, was named the 1979 Alumnus of the Year in Poplarville Saturday night at the annual PRC alumni banquet.

Heber Ladner, Mississippi secretary of state, was recognized as Pearl River College's earliest graduate (1923), and other alumni activities included the election of Shelton Ball, Columbia, vice-president of the association.

Dr. Barnes, 42, a native of Columbia, received his associate degree from Pearl River in 1957, and his bachelors degree from Southeastern Louisiana College.

Barnes received his masters degree from the University of Mississippi and his Ph. D. from the University of Tennessee. In 1975 he received a fellowship in the American School Health Association (FASHA).

The PRC Alumnus taught high school for nine years and was the state consultant in health education for the Louisiana Department of Education.

In 1972 he was made the associate professor of Health Education at the University of Southern Mississippi. In 1977 he was named chairman of the Department of Health and Safety Education and professor of Health Education at USM.

He has numerous professional papers, publications, and research papers to his credit. Barnes has spoken to many professional organizations in Mississippi and Louisiana and he has held consultant positions in Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee.

Dr. Barnes is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society - Mississippi Division and Forrest County Unit; Health Council secretary-treasurer of LAHPER; chairperson of the Louisiana State Smoking and Health Education Leadership Development Project.

He has held offices in several other professional organizations.

At the present time, Dr. Barnes is on the President's Committee of University Governance at the University of Southern Mississippi.

He is married to the former Miss Rebecca Ann Phillips and they have two children, Bart Eugene 12 and Matt Ryland, 9. They are presently living in Hattiesburg.

Mississippi Secretary of State Heber Ladner received an autographed football from the alumni association as the earliest graduate in attendance at the banquet. He was valedictorian of the 1923 class here at Pearl River College.

Earlier in the day Ladner attended a memorial service for Marshall (Roscoe) Lumpkin, sponsored by Pearl River College's 1924 class.

Franklin J. Cuevas, president of the '24 class, was in charge of the annual reunion.

The memorial service was held at the First Baptist Church of Carriere.

George Dale, PRC's outgoing alumni president and Mississippi's Insurance Commissioner, presided over the annual alumni banquet.

Thomas Keith of Purvis, PRC's student council president, welcomed the large crowd and recognized the 1979 PRC Homecoming Court.

Dr. Marvin R. White, president of the college, recognized the many dignitaries in attendance and gave a brief report of the progress of Pearl River College.

Ms. Ann Dandridge of Poplarville, will serve as the president of the Alumni Association for the next two years and Shelton Ball will serve as vice-president and president elect. Enoch Seal Jr., academic dean of PRC, was re-elected secretary of the association.

Dale recognized the members of the 1949 championship football team who were in attendance at the banquet. Earlier in the day the '49 team had held a reunion in honor of former head coach T. D. "Dobie" Holden.

LOVEABLE COMPANIONS—These two playful pups are presently rooming at the Bay-Waveland Humane Society awaiting adoption by a foster family. The small dog on the left is a mixed beagle and dachshund while the multi-colored young canine on the right is believed to be a shetley. Along with these two examples of man's best friend, the Humane Society has an all white male kitten free to a good home. Further information may be obtained by calling 467-9494. GOOD NUTRITION

BY Robert E. Lenders, Ph.D.

Are We Eating Too Much Salt?

One of the recommendations of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition was that Americans should begin reducing their intake of salt. It is easy today to eat too much salt. Most canned and processed foods are salted. Many snack foods like olives and potato chips contain large amounts of salt.

Do we need salt? The answer is yes, but not as much as most of us eat. Salt is sodium chloride. While both sodium and chloride in small amounts have been found essential to good health, experts believe that excess dietary sodium can lead to health problems.

The typical American takes in somewhere between 4,500 and 7,000 milligrams of sodium per day. The recommendation is a daily sodium intake of between 1,500 and 2,500 milligrams (average salt intake of 5 grams).

A person who has hypertension (high blood pressure) is frequently placed on a controlled sodium diet because it has been found that the blood pressure of many hypertensive individuals is likely to be lowered by a reduced sodium intake diet. Since hypertension is one of the major risk factors which set the stage for heart disease, it demands whatever correction is possible.

Although there is no evidence that the normal American can be made hypertensive with the average amount of salt, population studies show that in those societies where salt consumption is relatively low, there is almost no hypertension. In those countries where salt intake is high, hypertension is prevalent. Avoiding excess salt is an individual decision which seems to be an intelligent precautionary measure.

One should recognize that most foods contain some sodium naturally. To lower the amount of salt (sodium chloride) one eats, some adjustments in food habits may need to be made. Although it is easy to stop adding salt at the table, it's also important to emphasize foods lower in sodium.

County braces for flu outbreak

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Health Department last week received some 1000 doses of influenza vaccine which it has been administering in attempts to fight an expected outbreak of the virus this year.

Public Health Nursing Coordinator Jennelle McLain said Monday the department received two types of vaccinations, one for children ages three to 13 and another for persons age 14 and above.

McLain said an effort is underway to vaccinate "high risk" people—those persons 65-years-old and above who have heart conditions, lung disease, kidney disease, diabetes, anemia, or other chronic illnesses.

"We are going to different places," McLain explained.

"We take vaccinations to Senior Citizens at centers or nursing homes, or they can come to us," she continued.

"The vaccinations are given on the regular days of Monday from 8 a.m. to noon and Thursday from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.," she added.

"We may expand the times," McLain speculated.

McLain said individuals between the ages of three and 26 receive two shots, the second injection a month after the first.

Persons above the age 26 receive only one shot, she added.

A yearly vaccination may be 70 to 90 percent effective in preventing flu, according to the Mississippi State Board of Health.

This season outbreaks of Texas and Brazil strains of Influenza 'A' and the Hong Kong strain of Influenza 'B' are expected, according to the state health board.

The flu shots are free at the Hancock County Health Department on Dunbar Avenue.

Zoning Change.....

At the hearing Gulfport attorney Joel Blass represented the group of people opposed to the zoning change. Several people at the hearing spoke in favor of the change.

The Bay Council and the Planning and Zoning Commission last Thursday met strong opposition to a new zoning map which was advertised as being "...a public hearing on the above mentioned date (Oct. 18, 1979) to receive comments and suggestions concerning the adoption of the revised Bay St. Louis Zoning map..."

The new zoning map was objected to by many businessmen claiming many areas were going to be re-zoned residential when they have been commercial, some for more than 75 years.

Blass reported after the 1977 action by the Bay Council he would appeal the decision. Blass' firm represented the appellants before the State Supreme Court. On text of the ruling by the State Supreme Court follows:

IN THE
SUPREME COURT OF MISSISSIPPI
ELIZABETH H. SULLIVAN, ET. AL.
V.
CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS and
MILTON FORTIER
BEFORE SMITH, LEE and BOWLING

LEE, JUSTICE, FOR THE COURT:
The Circuit Court of Hancock County affirmed an order of the City of Bay St. Louis Council (City Council) rezoning six (6) lots in said city owned by Milton Fortier. Elizabeth H. Sullivan and seven (7) other individuals opposed the rezoning of said lots and have appealed from the judgment.

The Bay St. Louis City Council adopted a Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance on May 4, 1976, which zoned the property involved here as -2, Residential District - 2 family-duplex. On August 17, 1977, Milton Fortier filed an application with the City Council for an amendment to the ordinance which would rezone said property from R-2 to R-3, residential district multi-family classification. He desired to construct an apartment complex on the property at an estimated cost of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000). After notices were given to interested individuals, the matter was considered by the planning commission which recommended that the property be rezoned as requested (R-3).

The City Council set the matter for hearing at a special meeting called for December 13, 1977, at which meeting Mr. Fortier and six (6) witnesses testified in behalf of the rezoning amendment. Appellant, Mrs. Sullivan, and eight (8) witnesses testified against the amendment.

The evidence does not indicate that there had been a mistake in the original zoning ordinance, that there had been a material change in the conditions and character of, and around, the area sought to be rezoned, or that there was a public need for the property to be rezoned. The City Council adopted a resolution rezoning the property to R-3 and approved the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission that said property be rezoned. The resolution only adjudicated that "it would be in the best interest of the majority of the citizens of the City of Bay St. Louis to approve the aforesaid zoning change recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission and that all things and actions required by law have been done."

The burden of proof was upon appellants to show that the character of the neighborhood had changed to such an extent that it justified rezoning and that there was a public need for rezoning the property. Unless the evidence is clear and convincing as to those requirements, the action is clear and convincing as to those requirements. The action of a rezoning board has been held to be arbitrary, capricious and discriminatory. Underwood v. City of Jackson, 300 So. 2d 442 (Miss. 1974). In Martinson v. City of Jackson, 315 So. 2d 414 Miss. in 1968, the Court stated the principle as follows:

"It is a basic rule the law of zoning that where a board of city or county officials, under authority conferred by the Legislature, has enacted a zoning ordinance, judicial review of action taken by the board is restricted and narrow in scope. An attack upon a zoning ordinance, to be successful, must show affirmatively and clearly that it is arbitrary, capricious, discriminatory, or illegal. The presumption of reasonableness and constitutional validity applies to rezoning as well as to the original zoning."

The courts would presume that the original zoning is well planned and designed to be permanent. Accordingly it is a firmly established rule that before a zoning board reclassifies property from one zone to another, there should be proof either (1) that there was a mistake in the original zoning, or (2) that the character of the neighborhood has changed to such an extent as to justify reclassification. Wakefield v. Kraft, 202 Md. 136, 96 A.2d 32, A. 2d 727; Temmink v. Board of Zoning Appeals of Baltimore County, 265 Md. 489, 109 A.2d 85, 215 So. 2d St. 417.

In Lewis v. City of Jackson, 184 So. 2d 384 (Miss. 1966) The Court said: "The evidence does not show, and the Council did not find, that conditions had changed in this community which would make it to the best interest of the City to rezone this property. Under these circumstances, the rezoning from residential to commercial is unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious. In reaching this conclusion, we are not unmindful of the rule of law that all presumptions must be indulged in favor of the validity of the zoning ordinances, and that this presumption applies to rezoning but not to the same degree, the presumption being that the original zoning was well planned in the first instance and intended to be more or less permanent. We are also mindful of the rule of law that we will not disturb a finding of the City that conditions have changed so as to warrant rezoning if the question is fairly debatable. The difficulty here is that there is no finding by the City Council of any changes and no evidence to support such findings, had it been made. When we examine the order of the Council, we do not find anything herein to reflect that it considered the question of whether there had been any change of conditions so as to make it to the best interest of the City to rezone this property. Holcomb v. City of Clarksdale, 217 Miss. 892, 65 So. 2d 281 (1953). 184 So. 2d at 387-388.

The circuit court affirmed the order of the City Council and recited in the judgment that the matter had been heard and carefully considered on the bill of exceptions and that no reversible error was found therein. We are of the opinion that the appellees wholly failed to meet the burden of proof imposed upon them, that the City Council erroneously rezoned the subject property and that trial judge erred in affirming the City Council's order.

Therefore, the judgment of the lower court is reversed and judgment is rendered here in favor of the appellants.

REVERSED AND RENDERED.

Neighbor plans fire victim relief drive

Lawrence and Hazel Young, elderly Pearlinton couple, lost their home and all possessions in a Monday morning fire, according to neighbor Mrs. Gus (Lillie) Garcia of White's Road in Pearlinton.

Mrs. Young escaped injury in the 10:30 a.m. blaze which completely destroyed her wood frame home.

Young has been confined in Singing River Hospital for cataract surgery during the past week and is expected home some time this week, according to Mrs. Garcia.

Mrs. Young will be staying with Pearlinton relatives until some permanent arrangement can be made.

Mrs. Garcia said she is coordinating a drive to collect food and clothing, and plans to establish a relief bank account for the now-destitute couple.

United Energy reports record 1979 earnings

When earnings are released in about two weeks, United Energy Resources, Inc., expects third quarter 1979 earnings to be about $33 million, the largest quarterly net profit in the company's history, according to J. Hugh Roff Jr., United's chairman, president and chief executive officer.

United's previous record quarterly earnings were $26.4 million in the first quarter of 1979.

Roff also said he anticipates United's 1979 earnings will exceed $100 million for the first time.

United's expected record earnings for the third quarter of 1979 are attributable primarily to increased gas sales volumes by both the interstate and intrastate gas transmission subsidiaries of the company, Roff said.

Roff said the best sales volume year since 1974 is anticipated for 1979 by United Gas Pipe Line Company, United's interstate gas transmission subsidiary, which supplies the municipal gas systems of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

United Gas Pipe Line Company imposed a 25 percent hike in wholesale natural gas prices in the two Hancock County communities this summer, and city officials report another wholesale price increase of some 20 to 30 percent is expected this winter.

In reporting that gas deliveries were "looking up," Roff said that in 1978 United Gas not only delivered about the same level as in the prior two years, but also replaced 98 percent of the withdrawals from reserves during the year. United Gas is currently having its best year ever, principally because of the larger sales made possible by the improved gas deliveries, Roff said.

He failed to discuss price increases in his report.

Suspected murderer fights extradition

The suspected murderer of a newlywed couple last July near Pass Christian has refused voluntary extradition from Orlando, Fla., where he is being held on shoplifting charges.

Kenneth William Wheat, charged with the July 30 double-murder of Joseph and Teresa Mayer, a honeymooning couple from Paducah, Ky., said this week he will not waive extradition to Mississippi.

Wheat is being held in Orlando on shoplifting charges after being arrested in an Orlando grocery store by police Friday.

He is wanted on capital murder charges for the Mayer killings.

Harrison County District Attorney Albert Necaise said extradition procedures are underway. Necaise said his office will draw up the papers and present them to the Mississippi Attorney General, who will, in turn, pass them on to the Governor Cliff Finch.

Finch may then forward a rendition warrant to the governor of Florida who will decide if Wheat will be extradited.

Necaise estimated the procedure to take as long as three weeks.

Wheat pleaded guilty to shoplifting charges before a Florida judge Saturday.

Harrison County Sheriff Howard L. Hobbs and two deputies flew to Orlando Monday on the chance that Wheat might waive extradition proceedings, but returned empty handed.

Necaise said Wheat may still waive extradition if he desires.

Joseph Mayer, 24, and his wife Teresa, 21, were visiting the Gulf Coast on their honeymoon. Authorities believe Wheat abducted the couple from the Worth Motor Lodge in Gulfport, where they were staying, and took them to a secluded spot of north Pass Christian, where they were killed.

office on Jan. 1," Randolph said Wednesday.

Randolph said he still plans on continuing with proposed construction of a $303,000 South Hancock High School to be built on US-90 south of I-10.

"With the time I have left I will continue to concentrate and proceed with the south end high school," the superintendent said.

"I am waiting for State Educational Finance Commission approval on the specifications so we may obtain the $303,000 to build this facility. Hopefully, the money will be available by the time the new superintendent takes office," he continued.

"I could not have achieved the success in academic improvements or upgrading of facilities without the fine school board and community support I have received," Randolph added.

Otis reports absentee voting now underway

Anyone wishing to vote absentee in Otis' office may do so, starting Saturday, October 27 until Saturday, Nov. 3.

His office at the Court House will be open on these two Saturdays as a US-90.....

Waveland and Hancock County planning commissions earlier this month.

Ducomb reported that it was agreed unanimously by committee members and planning commission presidents that the cities adopt a minimum setback ordinance for newly constructed commercial businesses along U.S.-90, of at least 35 feet from the right-of-way; that the cities enforce existing sign ordinances; that the county adopt land use regulations based on existing land use; that a 50 foot set-back ordinance be included in those county regulations; and a sign ordinance, in harmony with city regulations, also be included.

The recommendations were presented, in the form of a motion, requesting resolutions by the board to the governmental bodies concerned.

A vigorous discussion followed with Ducomb fielding several questions regarding the committee findings. After several minutes of discussion concerning all aspects of the motion, the motion died due to a lack of a second.

However, the board later voted to request that the cities enforce existing sign regulations and that a highway department expert be called in to study the set-back issue along US-90.

Thomas requested that Ducomb maintain the committee to talk with highway officials, but Ducomb declined due to pressing business commitments.

Warren Carver then agreed to chair the committee.

In other chamber business, during the Tuesday meeting at chamber offices on US-90, Jeannette Monti Purchner, morning coffee chairman, reported that the speaker for a Nov. 20 morning session will be Stew McHie district manager for the Exxon Corp.

Hancock Industries Director George

Graves, program Director Jane Baumgardner, and center clients Jerry Calhoun and Dorothy Poyadon talked about the various types of jobs the organization was involved in and capable of doing.

Jim Torbit, advisor for the local chapter of (VICA) (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) spoke on the work of his youth organization and presented Russell Seay of Lakeshore, vice president of the group.

Torbit closed with an appeal to the local community for volunteers for the "craft committees" which find out exactly what his students have to learn, in various vocational courses at the vocational center, to be employed.

Thomas announced that the Outstanding Citizen Committee had been selected.

The Mississippi State Highway Department, Southern District, sent a letter replying to a chamber suggestion of contracting out neutral ground maintenance of US-90.

The highway department thought the idea was good but they did not know how it should be done, since it has not been done before. However, the letter added, "the recommendation would be considered."

A nominating committee, who will select eight new board members to replace those retiring, will send out ballots to the general membership Nov. 1. These ballots will be counted Nov. 15.

New and old board members will meet jointly at next month's meeting and the 1980 board will choose new officers.

Breaux reported that his daughter, Marlene who was selected as Gumbo Festival queen, has been invited to participate in the Miss Teen All-American Pageant in Miami Dec. 1.

Unfinished furniture saves money, consumer management specialist says

By NORINE BARNES
"MONEY TALK"

If you're in the market for some new furnishings for your home or apartment, don't think that buying furniture in a department store is the only way to go. Buying new furniture is a good way to put a serious dent in your budget, especially if you have to buy on credit and add the interest charge to your total price.

Try shopping yard sales or auctions looking for furniture bargains to recycle; or visit the nearest store that sells unfinished new furniture and compare prices and selection. Before you buy, do a little research on the differences in construction and materials found in various pieces. Your local Cooperative Extension office has information on buying unfinished furniture. Both soft and hard woods are used in making unfinished furniture; the hardwoods are more expensive and harder to find but are stronger and less likely to dent than the soft-woods.

Decide how the piece will be used. If it's sure to get rough and tumble wear from the children, the extra money spent for a hardwood piece might be well worth it in the long run.

The most commonly used wood for unfinished furniture is pine which is a soft wood. A better quality pine piece will be free of knotholes and will be glued together at the joints instead of stapled.

The way in which the parts are joined can be a good indication of its durability and strength. If the piece has dovetailed joints (two pieces interlocking with wedge-shaped holes and projections) on the corners of the drawers instead of butt joints (the two pieces just nailed, stapled or glued together) the piece will most probably be sturdier and last longer.

Don't be afraid to really look in, behind and underneath all pieces to check for construction details and materials that mean quality. The time and money you spend sanding, varnishing, staining, or painting your new furniture will be well worth the effort if you've chosen the best quality you could possibly afford.

Selecting well-made furniture and spending the time to do a good job of finishing are the keys to wise unfinished furniture buying.

Retirees Day set at Keesler

The annual Retirees Day to honor military retirees will be held at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Oct. 27.

The day will begin with marching exhibitions, including a precision drill exhibition, a drum and bugle corps performance and a center parade.

Lt. Gen. (USAF, Ret.) Bryan Shotts, former commander of the Keesler Technical Training Center, will serve as reviewing officer for the parade.

The parade will also include a retirement ceremony for Col. Dexter Martin, deputy commander for Technical Training here, who will retire Nov. 1 after more than 31 years of service.

Following the parade and retirement ceremony, Maj. Gen. Don H. Payne, center commander, will welcome retirees to the Crowell Theater on base for a series of orientation briefings on information of importance to retired military people.

Local photographer judges awards

Bob Hubbard of Waveland was a recent judge of the prestigious Gabriel Awards which acknowledge excellence in broadcasting. The Gabriel Awards honor persons in the broadcast industry whose work creatively treats issues concerning human values.

The awards are presented each year by UNDA-USA, a professional and autonomous Catholic association for broadcasters and allied communications.

All entries are judged on artistic, informational, and technical criteria. Only in the class for religious programming is religious content a factor.

The photographic works of Hubbard are being utilized by the Catholic Church of West Virginia. In its multimedia approach to evangelization, His artistic works will be incorporated into television programs which treat of human and spiritual values in the 20th century.

ASCS Report

OCT. 29 DEADLINE

Only a few days remain to nominate as candidates in the upcoming ASC community committee elections, according to Franklin A. Gennin, County executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service) office.

First duty of the newly elected community committee members will be to serve as delegates to elect new members of the county ASC committee.

Gennin reminded producers that this is an important occasion for the responsible, farmer-chosen team of ASC community committee members who will administer government programs.

The ASC community committee election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 23 to Dec. 3. By turning in a total of six or more petitions, farmers in each ASC community have the opportunity to prepare the slate of nominees themselves, according to Gennin.

Shortly after Oct. 29, all petitions will be reviewed. If six or more valid petitions have been received for an ASC community, the county ASCS office will prepare a slate containing the names of all eligible nominees. If less than six valid petitions are received for any ASC community, the incumbent community committee will add nominees to complete the slate.

To submit a valid petition, three or more ASC farm voters must sign a statement endorsing an eligible candidate. The statement must include certification that the nominee will serve if elected. Petitions must be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

The opportunity to nominate, vote, and be elected to office in the upcoming ASC community election is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, religion, sex, color, or national origin.

ELECT

JULION B. WRIGHT

State Senator
Pearl River and
Hancock Counties

I am Julion B. Wright, a candidate for the office of State Senator for Pearl River and Hancock counties. I entered this race because I was not satisfied with the actions of state governments. I have talked to hundreds of people over the past four months who have the same opinion as I.

People run for office with promises to stand up for the voters, yet when elected they forget everything except politics. What is best for them is what the people have to live with. If a decision is to be made on tough legislation that may effect their political status, let the lawyers and the courts settle the issue, it's safer for them to take no action.

This is our problem in government today. We need people who will represent the people regardless of the after effect. I can do this for I have no other reason for serving as State Senator. My opponents states that he has served well with other elected officials and I do not dispute this. I do, however, question the fact that elected officials have served the people.

Where is economy of our district. Where are the jobs with pay-rolls that we must have to make and maintain a strong economy. Our elected officials in state, as well as local government, have sought federal money so hard that they have overlooked the needs of the people. Industry is a necessity and can be made available, but it's going to take people who are willing to work for others instead of themselves to bring it to us.

A progressive and real economy is based on payroll and taxes, not federal handouts. I am proud to see the latest action of PRFDA in obtaining an industrial site outside of our cities. This is where it should be and I have no doubt that we can bring industry with good paying jobs to our people.

Welfare and food stamps are a necessity in our society. There are people in our state such as, the elderly, children and poor people, who must be cared for and I do not in any way object to this. What I do object to is the actual waste at the top of these programs.

Most of us see the man on the street being helped who is able to help himself and of course we don't approve. We never look at the top to see where the graft and the real corruption really is. Our elected officials will tell you that they do not write the regulations for a commission they authorize, and this is true. They do, however, approve an operation budget for these commissions each year.

If I approve an operation budget coming from tax money, certainly I am going to see that the regulations are in order and that qualified people are hired to carry on the final operations. When our welfare director tells the State Budget Commission that he has eight hundred employees who are incompetent and he needs to hire four hundred and fifty more, then something is wrong.

The original qualifications called for sixty hours of college work plus a written test. They were advised by their lawyers to drop the test after a suit had been filed in federal court for discrimination. I believe we should set up a training program for the purpose of helping these people become qualified to perform effectively before hiring them.

This is common sense in any operation, be it state of local government, or commerce and industry. We need people elected to office who have the guts to be effective in the operation of state government. I can and will work with any person or group of people in the best interest of all people.

I will be conservative with tax money spent as well as regulations governing peoples lives. I believe we can have the best state and the best government in the nation if we are willing to forget self and politics and work toward a common goal for the good of all people.

Will you please join me in this effort and elect Julion B. Wright as your next Senator from Pearl River and Hancock counties.

YOU AND YOUR PET

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

CARING FOR A NEW KITTEN

Despite their reputation for independence and self-reliance, cats still need daily attention to diet and housing. If you add a new kitten to your household, help it off to a good start by following a few basic rules:

First, don't buy a kitten younger than six weeks old. Kittens are weaned from their mothers starting at about four weeks, and need some practice at eating solid foods. Don't expect your kitten to subsist entirely on milk.

Kittens grow very rapidly and need a balanced blend of proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, generally available in commercially prepared cat foods.

A kitten continues to grow until it is about six months old and will need several small feedings during the day for proper nourishment. Try to feed the pet in the same place, at about the same time. Table food may be used to supplement, but not replace, a balanced cat food. Fresh water should always be available.

Second, give your kitten a home of its own. A shallow box or basket lined with warm material and placed away from drafts will do fine. Any small animal is easily chilled, and your kitten will miss the warmth of its mother and litter mates.

Cats and kittens are naturally tidy and need a litter box if they live indoors. Two or three inches of sawdust, shredded paper or commercial litter in a pan about 18 inches square is all you need. Remove the solid waste once a day and change the litter material weekly. A clean litter pan encourages good toilet habits in kittens and cats.

The healthiest cats are those immunized against the serious viral diseases that often attack felines. These infections include rabies, feline distemper, rhinotracheitis and other respiratory infections. Most viral diseases spread very rapidly and can kill kittens in a very few days.

If you're caring for a long-haired kitten, regular grooming is a must. Comb (don't brush) the kitten thoroughly each day to remove loose hair and prevent matting and tangling. Even short-haired types will benefit from an occasional grooming to remove the loose hairs that may accumulate in the cat's stomach as a hair ball.

Occasionally kittens arrive from pet shops or private owners with internal or external parasites. If you think your kitten has fleas, there are several insecticides made especially for cats.

Flea collars are very effective, but the animals neck should be checked regularly for signs of irritation. For control of internal parasites, ask your veterinarian to recommend the appropriate product.

GCJC production 'White Sheep' opens tomorrow

Gulf Coast Junior College's fine arts department at the Jefferson Davis Campus will present "The White Sheep of the Family" at 8 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday, in the campus fine arts auditorium. The comedy by L. du Garde Peach and Ian Hay is under the direction of Cheryl Welch, speech and theatre instructor. "The plot deals with the Winters, a respected upper class family," explained Welch. "However, for generations family members have preferred a life of crime. The conflict begins when the son wants to be the 'white sheep of the family.'"

Cast members include: Laura Cuevas, Brian Fassett, Paul Sessum and Robin Swam, all of Long Beach; Melanie Johnson, Carl Perrett and Scott Stevenson, Gulfport; and Crystal Harmon, Biloxi.

Admission is $1.50 for the general public and free for GCJC students with identification.

Ag Affairs

Pumpkins, cornstalks, scarecrows and assorted candies are being readied and one night real soon millions of children dressed in masks and scary costumes will call on their neighbors for treats, or an occasional trick if they can conjure up a good excuse for it.

Halloween is one of our oldest traditions and probably the least understood. Even the name itself leaves no clue to the meaning of the tradition in our usual understanding of word meanings today.

Halloween is a contraction of 'all hallow' (or all holy) and 'even' which is a contraction of 'evening'. Put them together and we have the mystical word that denotes traditions that may not be regarded as all holy.

This tradition is a European import that started with Irish and Scottish folk customs that date back to pre-Christian times—from paganism. The very first Halloween observances were held by Druids in honor of Samhain, "Lord of the Dead," whose festival fell on November 1. They believed that on the eve of this festival, the Lord of the Dead called together all the wicked souls or spirits that were condemned to homeless wandering, and gave them permission to return to their earthly homes and friends, there to be entertained.

Now, for the treat precedent. If, on this night, food and shelter were not provided for the spirits, they were certain to cast evil spells and cause torment to all concerned. And the tricks were a serious matter in the imaginations of the living.

Those ancient people believed that everyone was powerless against the spirits who made the most of their one night of devilish liberty. Yet, they ventured to try to exorcise these ghosts and appease their evil sway by setting out treats of food for them during the night. Thus, if the tricks were satisfied with the offerings, the living were safe. If not, tricks of unspeakable horror and evil could be expected.

This festival on the night of October 31 was rigorously observed throughout the ancient world. An added feature was costuming to keep the spirits at bay. During that period prayers to pagan gods in the interest of appeasement were common and thus the occasion came to be called "All Souls' Day."

Former president promoted to kitchen

BY WAYNE DUCOME, JR.

Bro. Pierre St. Pierre, S.C., former president of St. Stanislaus High School, has returned to manage the dining hall at that school.

It seems unusual that a former school president is now a dining hall manager but, looking into Brother's life with the Brothers of the Sacred Heart will manifest why he was perfect for this important position.

He grew up in New Orleans and attended schools in that city.

In 1944, after training four years, at the House of Studies in Metuchen, N.J., Bro. Pierre was ordained and began his career as a cook at Metchen. His duties included everything from canning foods to slaughtering the livestock raised at the facility.

Brother then was assigned as cook at Coindra Hall, one of the order's boarding schools in Huntington, Long Island, from 1945 to 1955 and then returned to Metuchen for four more years as a cook.

He was assigned as Prefect of Devereux Hall, an orphanage in Natchez, in 1949, where he also oversaw the kitchen for that facility.

Brother fondly comments that, "If I had to leave St. Stanislaus I would love to be assigned to the Natchez orphanage again. It was a very rewarding experience."

In 1963, he taught cooking and dining hall purchasing at the Sacred Heart Scholasticate at Spring Hill, Ala. Bro. Pierre was also named director of the House at that facility and this became his first administrative post.

Bro. Pierre then had the opportunity to study in Rome, Italy, in 1964, at the mother house known as the Hoteliere. Brother colorfully describes this experience as a "spiritual rejuvenation" or a "boot camp" for his order. He also had the opportunity to mingle with brothers from all parts of the world, learning to speak some French and Italian.

After a year of study in Rome, Brother returned to the Sacred Heart Scholasticate.

Shortly before Hurricane Camille, in 1969, Brother was assigned as president of St. Stanislaus High School. Recalling his experiences after Hurricane Camille he said, "Camille brought out goodness in many, many people and the cooperation from so many people was magnificent."

KENNEDY LIBRARY DEDICATION

An Ole Miss junior majoring in government and history represented Mississippi at the dedication of the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston last weekend. Jerry Spore is also a defensive safety on the Ole Miss football team, but has not played this year because of a knee injury. He was one of 50 students appointed by state governors to serve as student ambassadors at the dedication.

He added, "Without the generous contributions from our alumni, we wouldn't have gotten the school back into shape as quickly as we did."

In 1975, Bro. Pierre was assigned director of services at Brother Martin High School in New Orleans and also served on the school's board of directors.

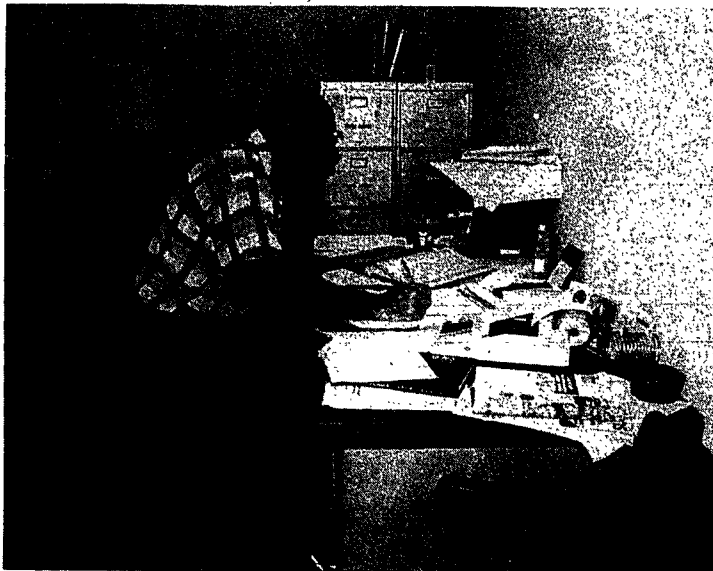

His duties consisted of purchasing, personnel management and organizing the scholarship program.

Then in May, Brother assumed the duties of Bro. Alban Tucker, who for 25 years was St. Stanislaus' cook, dietitian and dining hall manager.

Bro. Pierre assumed management of this important position with the robust enthusiasm which highlights his dynamic personality. He daily serves 1,350 meals and manages dining hall staff of 18.

He recently installed two salad bars, has revamped the school's food purchasing procedures and a $300,000 dining hall renovation-expansion program is planned.

Summing up his career, thus far with the Brother's of the Sacred Heart, Bro. Pierre states that, "The good Lord has blessed me in many ways."

USM asks $1.1 million for campus improvement

A legislative package including $1.1 million dollars for the University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Coast campuses has been presented to state legislators by USM officials.

The USM-Gulf funds were a part of an overall request for over $41.7 million for the Hattiesburg campus, USM-Gulf Coast and USM-Natchez. The presentation came during Legislative Weekend held Oct. 12-13.

In an opening session USM President, Dr. Aubrey Lucas, commended the lawmakers for their past support and outlined the need for additional funding.

"With these funds we intend to bring the salaries of our faculties up to that of the southeastern average so that we can keep top-notch faculty which we have here and attract others as we have vacancies. We will also try to meet the inroads that inflation has made on our buying power," Lucas said.

According to Dr. Joe Holloway, dean of USM-Gulf Park, Hardy Hall and the Administration Building on the Long Beach campus are in need of critical improvements.

Hardy Hall houses the cafeteria, auditorium, dormitory rooms for conferences and other meeting areas.

The Administration Building is used primarily for offices for the administration and resident faculty.

USM officials, included funding for a Health, Physical Education and Recreation Center, monies to purchase additional land, funding for a Polymer Institute and general support funds for the Hattiesburg campus.

Waveland children jeopardized by Triton spooks and goblins

By COUNT WAYNE DUCOMB

TERRORSVILLE, MS.—Gastly subhuman creatures have been spotted by the special Ghost Squad of the Waveland Police Department. The creatures, said to range in height from three feet to 30 feet tall, have been seen in the shadows, during twilight, skulking toward the Krewe of Triton's den, located on Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

It has been rumored that the fiends are plotting another ghoulish reunion at the Krewe of Triton's den, which becomes known, about this time of year as the Terrorville Community.

For the last five years this bloodcurdling event has marked the gathering of some of the most disgusting, mutated creatures in the world. Many of these creatures have reluctantly been featured in some of the classic horror films of this century, but others, because they have been impossible to manage, have not yet graced the cinema screen with their revolting presence.

Local residents are again

shuddering at the prospect of another Halloween season of "things that go bump in the night" and the gasty screams that, as of late, have emitted from the very walls of the Triton den.

An anonymous spokesman for the Krewe of Triton recently commented, "We can't seem to do anything about the creatures and their desire to haunt our den around Halloween. So about the only thing we can do is sit the whole thing out and invite the public to witness this inevitable event. I've got to stay at the den this time of year and I'll be darned if I'm going to stay there by myself with those fiends and monsters, so we invite all, young and old, to come by to keep me company. . . in fact, we dare you to come!"

Shortly after interviewing the "anonymous spokesman" he or it disappeared right into the walls of our newsroom leaving no trace except for a painfully written note, on what seems to be some sort of ancient parchment.

The note reads, "Haunted House, Krewe of Triton Den, Coleman Avenue, Waveland, Oct. 27, 28 and 31, starting each night at 7 p.m. - 'til Young and old are invited to this ominous event and only a nominal donation is requested. Refreshments will be served."

The note was signed at the bottom, in what seems to be blood, "Regretfully."

And what are you going to do with all of that leftover pumpkin after the grinning Jack-o-lanterns have had their way on Halloween?

There's always traditional pumpkin pie, though many cooks prefer to use the canned variety for pies to avoid the mashing and pureeing.

We like the leftover pumpkin used as a vegetable-cubes of pumpkin sautéed with onions and garlic in olive oil, seasoned with fresh ground pepper and salt-or made into a cream soup-or pumpkin chips or toasted seeds-to nibble on along with whatever beverage you prefer.

Let's start with:

PUMPKIN AU GRATIN

¾ CUPS (approximately) diced pumpkin
½ cup grated Swiss cheese
6 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup cream
Dash of pepper sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
Butter

Peel and dice enough pumpkin to make about six cups. Cook in a very small amount of water till tender, then drain thoroughly (or you can use a vegetable steamer). Butter a baking dish and arrange the pumpkin in it, seasoning with salt, pepper and hot sauce - and adding a bit of finely minced garlic if you wish.

Sprinkle the chesses over, then pour the cream over all. Bake at 375 degrees until golden crust forms and the cream is all but absorbed by the pumpkin. (Serves 4)

This goes especially well with chicken or turkey.

You'll probably still have some leftover pumpkin, so turn Jack into curried pumpkin chips...just pare and seed pumpkin, slice as for potato chips.

Fry in deep hot oil (360 degrees) until browned, about two minutes or so.

Drain on paper towels, and sprinkle with salt, a bit of curry powder and perhaps a little garlic salt or powder as you wish.

And don't throw away those pumpkin seeds. Separate seeds from the stringy portion, dry on paper towels, and spread in thin layer in a shallow pan.

To each cup of seeds add a tablespoon of butter, margarine or oil and roast in a 250 oven for 20 to 30 minutes, or until crisp and browned, stirring occasionally.

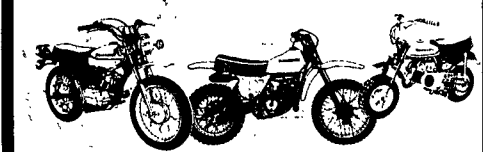

Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve in place of nuts.

I also like these seeds, sautéed with snips of green onions and celery, in a butter and olive oil sauce for spaghetti.

To the customers, employees, and friends of Mississippi Power Company...An expression of

Sincere Thanks

Hurricane Frederic caused extensive damage to our electric system throughout southeast Mississippi and left some 100,000 Mississippi Power Company customers without electric service.

To our customers, many of whom suffered grievous personal losses, we express our grateful appreciation for your kindness, patience, and understanding during the period before electric service was restored to your homes and businesses.

The Herculean task of restoring electric service could not have been accomplished without the dedication of our employees and those of other companies who were concerned about the well-being of their fellowman. Neighboring utilities promptly provided men and equipment to help us in this restoration effort.

The more than 1,350 men and women involved in the restoration of electric service have our sincere thanks for a hard job well done.

GOING DOWN, PLEASE-A Bay High rusher is pulled down by a host of Vancleave defenders, a sight which was commonplace at a meeting of the two squads last week as the Bulldogs held the Tigers at bay in a 28-0 win. This week at 7:30 p.m. the Tigers and St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws meet head on in a bitter county rivalry which will determine the Hancock County champion. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

The Bay High Tigers meet the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws head on in gridiron action Friday night in the annual county rivalry.

This game will be moreso important, however, as it will determine the Hancock County champion, both teams thusfar victorious over the Hancock North Central Hawks.

Bay High Head Coach James (Snuffy) Smith said he is wary of the depth, variation of offensive and defensive line-ups, and size of the Rock-A-Chaws which his "underdog" Tigers must face.

"Stanislaus runs a lot of different formations and varied sets on offense," Smith said Tuesday.

"We must contribute a lot of time in preparation for this," he continued.

"I look for St. Stanislaus to go with a power 'I' formation with a two tight end set or a power 'I' formation with an unbalanced line set Friday night," he added.

"They believe these power plays will enable them to use their additional strength and power to bull over our defensive line," Smith explained.

Dove hunting season begins here Saturday

Hunters will have more reasons to go to the woods and marshes beginning Saturday as the season on doves, rails, and gallinules gets underway statewide.

Beginning this weekend the first statewide season on mourning doves opens and will extend through Nov. 18 with shooting hours between noon and sunset.

Bag limits are 12 birds with 24 in possession.

Most of Mississippi's 30 state-operated hunting areas will have dove hunting on selected days of the week. Hunters should check the regulations of the area they plan to hunt before going afield.

Rails and Gallinules also become fair game as the season on these migratory birds opens Saturday.

Although less frequently hunted than some species, the birds make for a different kind of shooting.

Bulletin

After pleading guilty before Judge W.D. Rustin, five Harrison County men arrested Oct. 12 for headlighting deer received a $250 fine and 15-day suspended jail term each.

Conservation Officer Chester Diaz arrested the five in the Ramsey Springs Community in Stone County for headlighting the deer, according to Chief Law Officer Mitch Reeves of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Along with a 16-gauge pump shotgun, a total of $1,250 plus court costs were collected from the five men.

TIGER-BULLDOG TREATY-Bay High Cheerleader Evelyn Bell admires a bulldog, one of two Vancleave mascots on the field for the Tiger-Bulldog match last week. The feelings were not as friendly on the field as the Vancleave eleven held the Tigers to goose eggs in a 28-0 shutout. This week Bay High meets St. Stanislaus in a county rivalry which will determine the Hancock County champion. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

Hancock North Central Head Coach Irvin Favre said Tuesday he is planning on playing a simple, head-on game against the undefeated d'Iberville Warriors Friday as the Hawks vie for a homecoming win following a resounding defeat of Pearl River Central.

Favre said his game plan will not contain any complicated, razzle-dazzle plays, because the more complicated the play is, the more apt the margin of error becomes.

"I plan to tell our people to keep the game simple and have the offense run a power 'I' straight at d'Iberville," Favre said Tuesday.

In last week's game against the Pearl River Central Blue Devils, a 36-6 win, Hancock played almost flawless ball as they recovered numerous fumbles made by the Devils.

The Hawk skipper said he is going to run head-on against the Warriors.

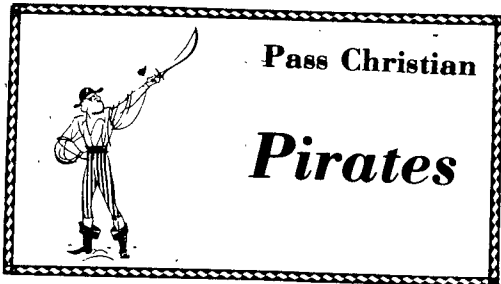

"We will go right into them. We will not try anything fancy, because we cannot get away with that against a team like d'Iberville," Favre said.

Other than the fact that we may run a power 'I' there will be no drastic changes,"

"We need to win a ball game," said Pass Christian Pirate Head Coach Bob Lumpkin Tuesday as he continued preparation of his fumble-laden team to take on Pascagoula River Conference cellar-owners East Central Friday.

Lumpkin's Pirates have lost their past two games, mainly on mistakes which resulted because of fumbles, 17 in the past two contests.

"We need to hold on to the ball. If we do that, we can move it against East Central," Lumpkin said.

"No matter what East Central's record is, if we turn over the ball too often we cannot win," he continued.

"If we eliminate our mistakes, we have a good chance to win this game," he added.

Last week the Pirates lost a contest against Harrison Central, one fumble and Local soccer teams take victories

Chris Kolodziej killed numerous Long Beach scoring threats from his sweeper position and Shane Foreman rifled three shots into the net for a hat trick Sunday afternoon as the Bay St. Louis Red Devils rolled to an easy 8-0 win at the St. Augustine Seminary field.

Playing last year as the Tigers in the under 14 category they served notice Sunday that they intend to pick up where they left off last year as they scored twice in each quarter and limited the opposing team to only six shots on goal for the entire game.

Also getting a foot in the scoring were Matt Rosetti with two goals and Kenny Sharp, Ronnie Artigues, and Chris Kolodziej with one score apiece.

The second game of the Sunday triple-header matched the two teams from the Bay-Waveland area in the under eight division.

The Mulletts jumped out to a 1-0 first quarter lead on a goal by Heidi Hitt, only to see the game tied up in the second period.

The second half produced no scoring and the game ended in a 1-1 deadlock.

Trey Kidd and Andrew Wright also turned in fine games for the Mulletts in a non-scoring capacity.

In the final game the Raiders of the under 10 class also posted their first shut-out as Scott Heitzmann notched a hat trick in the 3-0 victory over a Gulfport team.

Micah Necaise contributed a pair of assists, and Mike Vegas played a key defensive role at fullback position.

In Saturday soccer action at Milner Stadium in Gulfport the Golden Eagles of the under 12 age division played to a 2-2 stalemate in a game which produced only first-half scoring.

Dave Pitolo scored on a penalty kick in the first stanza, but the Gulfport team came back with two goals before Michale LeGros tied it up.

According to Eagle Head Coach Hank Daman, "We played about 80 percent of the second half on their side of the field, but we just could not get the ball into the goal."

Jay Artigues rebounded a Scott Demboski shot with a good, hard slide which pushed the ball past the Gulfport goalie, but unfortunately for the Cobras of the under 12 division, the score was their only point.

The Roadrunners of Gulfport roared back to score four times as they handed the Cobras a 4-1 loss in the opening game of their pre-season.

Ginger Gilmore and Hunt Carraway combined for the Cobras at fullback to shut off many other scoring opportunities for the Roadrunners.

In the under 16 age division, the Bay St. Louis local team managed to score three goals, but playing with only nine players, could not contain the Gulfport offense.

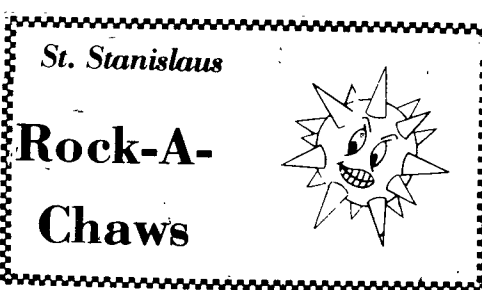

The Bay team lost 7-3.

"We just were not able to control the play with only nine players and by the second half our players were so tired

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws, racked by two physical defeats in as many weeks, vie for the Hancock County championship title this week as they meet the Bay High Tigers at Tiger Stadium Friday night.

First Year Head Coach Barry Jones said Tuesday he hopes his eleven will put last Friday's defeat at the hands of St. Martin in the past tense and concentrate on the game at hand.

Jones' squad was defeated 26-0 by the Yellow Jackets, and the head coach said Tuesday, "They just didn't play football."

"I just hope we get on the right road effortwise and mentally. We did not play a good ballgame at all," Jones said.

"There is a lot of talk circulating about that game, but it is behind us now," he continued.

"This is a big ballgame for both teams and records have no meaning in this contest," Jones added.

"This will be a highly emotional game, and I hope the fans will let the players take care of the game on the field. Either side can win this one," he explained.

Jones said his eleven sustained no major injuries during the physical beating handed them by the Jackets, saying, "We did not hit them hard enough or play hard enough to get any injuries."

Area boxing club receives donation

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club recently received a $250 donation from the Disabled American Veteran Chapter Five of Gulfport for equipment, according to Head Coach John Whisenhunt.

Gulfport Commander Burt Ladner said working with and training boys and young men to be good citizens are some of the goals of the DAV, upon making the presentation.

"This is our largest donation to date and we appreciate all donations of any amount," Whisenhunt said.

In a recent weekend bout in the Ocean Springs Armory, Nolan (Spider Man) Vince, a 22-year-old middleweight and native of Pearlinton, defeated Michael Lindsey of the Biloxi Boxing Club.

"Nolan (Spider Man) brought the audience to their feet and kept them there throughout the three two-minute rounds," Whisenhunt said Monday.

"This was his second career win. He did just as I had told him, take control of the ring and keep it," the coach added.

Whisenhunt said Vince kept his back to the center of the ring and controlled his opponent well.

"Lindsey was ready to go down in the second round as a result of right-hand leads and left hooks, but the bell saved

He said the offensive line-ups will enable the Rocks to best utilize Running Back Scott Senner and Quarterback Gary Sotak.

"Stanislaus has a large defensive line, also," Smith explained. The SSC front line averages 199 pounds, and Smith says "These are all above average size and strength, and we expect them to utilize all their power and strength."

Offensively for the Tigers, Smith said he is at a disadvantage because of the recent loss of Tight End Bobby Waterman, who suffered a knee injury.

"Last week at Vandave we went with a split double split and formation, because we do not have a blocking tight end anymore," the head coach explained.

"This is a big disadvantage for us because it puts a strain on the running game," he continued.

"The situation we are in hinders the running game because we need a good blocking tight end," he added.

Smith said he does not think the average defensive secondary of SSC will allow more passing room for his squad, because of the difficulty in getting Quarterback Chuck Benigno to the outside to pass.

"Benigno is capable of throwing a good ball, but as small as we are it is tough to go outside where he can pose a running and throwing threat. He does not have the size to throw from the inside," Smith said.

"We will go to the air as a necessity," he added.

"I feel our athletes are mentally prepared for this game. People think that just because we have dropped the past four games we are dead, but we are still alive and kicking and look to win Friday," he added.

Gametime is 7:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

"We will try to regroup emotionally and mentally. That is our biggest goal," Jones said.

Speaking of his defensive secondary, Jones said the safetys and linebackers are improving and does not consider an aerial attack by the Tigers a great threat.

"We are going to play with maximum concentration. Anytime a quarterback is given enough time to throw a ball he will do so," Jones said.

"We will have to improve in all facets of the game to win," he added.

Kickoff at Tiger Stadium is 7:30 p.m.

him. Nolan (Spider Man) launched a two-fisted attack that kept Lindsey running all through the third and final rounds," Whisenhunt said.

"This week was the first ever the audience was screaming for one of our boys to win," he added.

Whisenhunt said Vince was given his nickname of Spider Man because he looked like a spider preparing to jump on a fly in the match.

The local pugilist is the tallest amateur boxer in South Mississippi, according to th head coach.

Vince stands at six-feet four-inches. 13-year-old Todd Rocks was penalized one point by the referee in the junior main event and suffered a loss to Jeffy Cowart of the Ocean Springs Club.

Rocks, a native of Kiln, had "really beaten Cowart bad a month ago in Biloxi," according to Whisenhunt.

"He should have won even with the one-point deduction," the coach added.

Joe Louis Goodman is on light workouts since suffering a torn stomach ligament as the result of a low hit in a recent match.

"He is coming along fine since his injury," Whisenhunt said.

Going to the armory but unable to obtain a match were: Nicky Slade, 17; Don Kingston, 18; Bobby Murhead, 13; and Shane (Under Dog) Whisenhunt, 6.

Heading up the boxing team is Henry Malley, a 20-year-old middleweight, when the club travels to Saraland Boxing Club at Saraland, Ala. Civic Center this Saturday.

Graduating last week from a boxing training clinic and slated to see action Saturday night are: Pat Cuevas, 14, 118 pounds, of Waveland; Darrel Malley, an 18-year-old 160 pounder of DeLisle; Charles Stewart, 19, 162 pounds, of Bay St. Louis; Mike Cuevas, 20, 164 pounds; Keith Starita, 23, 162 pounds, Waveland; and Dave Lizana, 20-years-old, 167 pounds, of Pass Christian.

Whisenhunt said he is making plans to have a series of fights in Bay St. Louis in four or five weeks.

Coaching Saturday's bouts were Fred Rocks and 'Big' Lazaro Holland, according to the head coach.

he added.

On defense, Favre said he plans a few changes in the passing secondary against the Warrior aerial game.

"With defense, we will stay with what we have been playing," Favre said.

"We are having pass defense problems, because we do not have the speed or personnel to keep up with their ends," he continued.

"We are not going to try to keep up with the receivers, but rather plan on placing our defenders in the right spots where d'Iberville is throwing passes," he added.

"I hope our kids can play a good offensive and defensive game and I hope we do not break down and fold," Favre continued.

"We have a shot at them, and right now our kids are looking forward to playing against them," he added.

Favre said the Hawks are playing the Warriors for homecoming, usually reserved for an easy win, because scheduling made the match up a likely homecoming.

"Economically, d'Iberville will produce a good crowd for the homecoming," the head coach said.

With three games remaining on the slate, all against powerhouses, Favre is looking for an upset to close the season.

Following the match against the Warriors, HNC will play the St. John Eagles and then meet the St. Martin Yellow Jackets for the season closer.

"We are looking for an upset at one of the next three games," the head coach said.

Kickoff Friday night is at 7:30 p.m.

Gulfview's winning streak extended to 28

By RICH ADAMS
Sports Editor

The Gulfview Elementary Bulldogs won their 27th and 28th consecutive regular season gridiron contests this week as they defeated Lizana and Pearl River Central.

Tuesday's defeat of PRC also marked Head Coach Curtis Thaxton's 100th career win in seven years of coaching at the school.

The Bulldogs will face the Bay Junior High School seventh- and eighth grade team in the Nov. 3 Crab Bowl at Gulfview this year. Thaxton also announced.

The win over Lizana began when, on a score.

the first series of play, Geb Frickie hit Donald Graham with a 65 yard touch-down pass to score early in the first stanza.

Richard Mayne ran a two point conversion into the end zone to make the score 8-0.

Following a Lizana punt, Mayne received a pitch out and ran 45 yards off tackle to score another touchdown. The conversion attempt failed, and the Bulldogs led 14-0.

Joe George intercepted a Lizana aerial to give Gulfview possession of the ball, and Graham hit Ran Davis for a 35 yard aerial which again resulted in

The point after was no good and the Bulldogs led 20-0.

After being pushed toward paydirt with two infractions by the Bulldogs, Lizana moved downfield and scored as Keith Ladner ran in for a six yard score.

A two point conversion by Ladner made the score 20-8.

Graham hit Davis again for a 58 yard score and made the tally 26-8.

Thaxton placed his second string squad in late in the third period and Ladner again scored for Lizana following a fumble on the Lizana 18 yard line.

The fumble came after a downfield drive by the Bulldogs, highlighted by runs from John Moran and Gene Davis.

The conversion was good and the final score was 26-16.

Thaxton cited Chris Pierce, Joe George, Sam Rush, and Terrel Frazier for outstanding defensive play, each making at least six individual tackles.

The Bulldogs rushed for 130 yards on 15 carries and were 5 of 8 in pass completions for 172 yards.

In Tuesday's game against PRC, the scoring began when Mayne picked up 25 yards for paydirt on an option play.

Mayne also scored a two-point conversion to set the Bulldogs on top, 8-0. Following a reception by Davis, Mayne went off tackle to score again, this time from seven yards out.

The halftime score was 14-0. Davis ran up the middle in the third period to score from 45 yards out, and the conversion was good for two points, making the Gulfview lead 22-0.

The Bulldogs scored again as Graham hit Frickie for a 60 yard aerial score, and the score stood at 28-0.

Thaxton replaced his starters with the second team, and D. Westbrook took a Gulfview fumble in from 15 yards out to score for PRC.

Gulfview rushed for 166 yards in 17 carries and completed three of six passes for 104 yards.

Monday night the Gulfview fifth- and sixth-graders play Hancock North Central for the elementary conference championship.

SIDELINE SYNOPSIS

By Rich Adams
Sports Editor

This week the Smiths will try to keep up with—or beat—the Joneses as the Bay High Tigers meet St. Stanislaus in a bitter, physical county rivalry.

What will make this meeting more physical and hard hitting than in the past is the fact that this contest will determine the Hancock County champion, both SSC and Bay High having already defeated Hancock North Central.

Both teams are being led by first-year head coaches who have transformed unorganized squads into at least quasi-precision units which have shown a talent to win.

Head Coach James 'Snuffy' Smith, directing the Tigers to two opening wins and a victory over perennial powerhouse HNC, is faced with perhaps the biggest challenge of his maiden voyage year.

Snuffy has stressed a 'believe in winning' theme throughout the year, which, to a certain extent, has been successful.

Snuffy has used mental manipulation to sway his eleven on the field to winning ways.

SSC's Barry Jones, on the other hand, has turned to physical power and depth to win his games against some stiff opponents.

The Rocks use a multitude of sets and formations which may upset the Tiger defense.

Both teams will be at their best Friday at Tiger Stadium as the Smiths meet the Joneses, but in the end I believe the powerful SSC Rock-A-Chaws will cut through the physically small Tiger defense enough to pull through with a victory.

Hancock North Central meet the d'Iberville Warriors in a homecoming match at Hawk Stadium Friday night.

The game should be the other way around—the Warriors hosting Hancock at a homecoming game—but HNC Head Coach Irvin Favre said scheduling required a match between either d'Iberville or SSC for the homecoming event, and economically d'Iberville will draw a larger crowd.

Hancock is coming into the game with a recent win over Pearl River Central, but that edge will be a slight one in the contest with d'Iberville.

Favre said he is instructing his athletes to play a simple offensive contest and meet the Warriors straight on from a defensive angle.

However, I predict the Hawks will still be defeated by the ominous d'Iberville pack in the match Friday night.

Pass Christian, hit with a recent outbreak of fumbleitis, will face the cellar-dwelling East Central squad this week at Pass Christian.

Second-Year Head Coach Bob Lumpkin, realizing his Pirates' fingers are too buttered to hang on to the booty, is working on having his squad hang on to the ball.

Pass has suffered defeat at the hands of some tough teams lately, but I think they will be victorious against the East Central eleven.

All games begin at 7:30 p.m. and will prove to be exciting, hard-hitting gridiron action.

Hunting.....

According to the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation biologists, common gallinules and purple gallinules are spring and summer residents in the states and are found where cattails, asparagus, lotus and water lilies afford cover.

The daily bag limit on gallinules is 15 and the possession limit is 30. Hunters usually take the birds incidental to quail and duck hunting.

An uncommon winter resident to the state, hunters find this species mainly in freshwater ponds bordering Gulf Coast marshes before they move further south.

Hunters find the small birds in fresh and saltwater marshes, among cattails and other emergent marsh grasses and weedy vegetation.

Hunting for sora, virginia, kind and clapper rails also opens Saturday and extends through Jan. 4.

Shooters are allowed 25 sora and virginia singly or the aggregate.

The daily bag and possession limit may not exceed 15 and 30 clapper and king rail respectively, singly or in the aggregate of these two species.

Pirates.....

another interception being nabbed by the Harrison Central defenders in the end zone for scores.
Lumpkin blames the butterfly antics of his eleven for their 2-5 record for the season, and is looking for a change of fate in this game against the team with the worst conference record.
A strained neck injury to Offensive Center-Defensive Middle Linebacker Dane Jenkins has resulted in his being benched for the next few weeks, and that will effect the Pirates' play.
Lumpkin said Tuesday he has substituted Garland Rowe in at the snapping position and Earl Schofield as the linebacker.
The second-year head coach said he is working his defense to adjust to an East Central offense which has a variety of formations and a passing quarterback who is ranked third in conference with two touchdown passes to his record this year.
"We have to watch the running play also," the head coach said.
"We will try to stop all facets of the game and try not to give them a thing. They will have to work for all they get," Lumpkin continued.
"We are going to stick with the veer offense with two tight ends. We usually run a split end formation," he added.
Gametime is at 7:30 p.m. at Pirate Stadium.

Meet the Gulf Coast Brownbuilders... members of Brown & Root's worldwide team

Brown & Root, one of the world's largest engineering and construction companies, owes much of its success over the past 60 years to the skills and loyalty of its Brownbuilders.
Along the Gulf Coast, Brownbuilders are designing and constructing offshore oil and gas platforms and pipelines, chemical and petrochemical plants, power plants, bridges, highways, and oil field sites.
Whatever we do, wherever we do it, one thing remains the same. We recruit, hire, train, and advance as many local people as possible - Gulf Coast Brownbuilders like the ones you see here - working on Brown & Root projects throughout the Gulf Coast states.
It's been our policy for years to hire locally first, so wherever Brown & Root works there are job opportunities for people qualified, willing, and able to work. That way, local communities, counties, and states get maximum benefit from projects on which we work - in jobs, payrolls, purchases, savings, and taxes.
